Chem Chem: We thought we had a temporary solution, but the toilet became unsafe and so we had to close TLC Chem Chem, and now move the children, some are seen right, over to TLC Ng'ambo daily. We hope to reopen the new TLC Centre on the site we have bought and build a proper toilet before the end of the holidays, but time and money are against us. See Chem Chem appeal. The fence around the site is under construction now. Many thanks to all who have donated, especially Louise and Josh, and those who attended and supported their marvelous fundraiser at the Balham TLC Quiz night in June, which was so enjoyed by all.

This brilliant new store shed, seen left, built by Brian from Australia, and some of the bigger boys and staff, was paid for by Australian friends and provides a much needed extension to the kitchen at TLC Isevyia, seen below right with its charcoal stoves. The new shed provides storage space for the food, saucepans and dishes, which previously were using up much of Magdalena's office. Isevyia's kitchen is providing meals for over 30 daily and over 70 on days when the children from Ng'ambo and Chem Chem come for a get together. The menu for the last joint meal was goat, rice and spinach, seen left, being enjoyed by the children last Saturday.

Fundraising: Jim completed the London Marathon and raised a lot of money for TLC at the same time. Well done Jim and thank you.

We have a new fundraiser, Alan, who is signed up for the Tough Mudder event.

Football crazy, even more dedicated now that the children have their wonderful goal posts in TLC Isevyia, so that they can score goals and have celebratory hugs. Thank you Brian.

Dancing is very popular at TLC Isevyva, below. Mama Beatrice gets the children moving at TLC Ng'ambo

Smiles and nice white teeth, below left, as the second tooth brush and paste event took place last Saturday. 48 tubes and brushes were distributed by Magdalena, Children's Coordinator for TLC Isevyva, seen right. Elisabeth, standing by the wall, has taken time off from her work as a nurse in Canada to revisit her friends in Tabora and meet the new kids, and is helping in so many ways. Thank you Elisabeth.

Crissy, a TLC sponsor from the USA, seen left, with some of the younger lads, has spent 4 weeks in Tabora, sharing her sunglasses and her skill at language teaching as well as some of the children's highs and lows. Thank you Crissy for everything

Crèche: One of our secondary girls, seen left, back for the holidays from her government boarding school, is helping out with making sure the TLC Isevyva's little ones get their breakfast of bread and black tea. At TLC Ng'ambo there are 5 babes now with one of the grandmothers looking after them. Right, a big sister comforts a tot as she tries the new mattress at nap time.

News from TCET, our sister organization which arranges sponsors to pay for some children to attend private school. Many of the students are busy preparing for the National Exams and we wish them well. Above left, some students chat at TLC Isevyva as school holidays start. Above right, a secondary graduate, has been helping younger TLC children with their numbers as she awaits the decisions on her further education.
